

ARCOM_Element1.1-2_Strategic Plan Core Values- Goals

delivery of healthcare;

- Supporting the research strategic plan of the ACHE department of research through collaboration and cooperation in time and energy dedicated to focusing on and conducting research; and
- Supporting student research efforts for them to gain exposure and experience which aids their efforts in obtaining desirable graduate medical education residency acceptance as well as aids their future careers.

Goal 4: The Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine will create a longitudinal training system where students seamlessly transition from classroom to experiential learning in a clinical setting while fully preparing all students to perform in graduate medical education training programs by:

- Focusing on growing and strengthening the clinical training years of the curriculum by expanding the network of care our students help to provide;
- Transforming healthcare delivery models to incorporate principles of healthy living and work-life balance into the routine activities of those with whom we partner to provide care;
- Being the primary resource for sound medical advice and care for the people of this region and all regions in which we live, work, and learn; and
- Understanding and embracing the role of a primary healthcare provider in the ever-changing landscape of healthcare delivery and to function as a leader in the healthcare team environment.

Goal 5: The Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine will actively engage internal and external stakeholders to improve the health of the community at large, thereby advancing the osteopathic principles and philosophy by:

- Assisting and teaching all stakeholders to emphasize the concept of mind, body and spirit to create healthy and balanced individuals and communities through physical and mental fitness, nutrition, and interactions with the arts;
- Encouraging all students, faculty, staff, and stakeholders to actively participate within their community toward these goals;
- Encouraging all students to dedicate time and effort to serve those most in need of care in this region and beyond; and
- Emphasizing the development of healthy, safe, and secure environments for daily living.
